

Australian Recruitment & Visa Services One-Stop-Shop

Two Key Business Services In One Place

Working in partnership to provide the full scope of talent acquisition, RHL Recruitment and Prime Migration & Legal Services represent a modern business solution to a current operational challenge; finding the best candidates on an international basis, attracting them towards your organisation, and having them successfully navigate the tricky Australian visa process.

As a collaboration that's flexible to your requirements, they are ready and waiting to discuss your staffing needs. Whether these comprise a desire for an all-in-one solution, a specific query such as skillset availability where you are, or how you can maximise the chances of visa application success for a worker already on your payroll, all aspects are welcomed for discussion.

Global Appeal

- With a pre-pandemic GDP growth period spanning 30 years, Australia is in a better position than most to recover economically, once COVID-19 related restrictions are fully lifted
- However, a significant number of Australian businesses will still struggle to find local skilled & experienced workers to support their ideal level of growth
- Success rates for sponsorship and work visa applications made without the assistance of a Migration Expert have significantly declined in recent years due to a failure to meet stringent requirements
- Australia remains a sought after destination for many, with a quality of life that appeals to talented professionals across the world

Through candidate flexibility and business dexterity, RHL addresses the modern recruitment need across a broad range of technical and professional disciplines, underpinned by an open, honest, and collaborative ethos stemming from our Sydney-based team in Paul and Ilse Surridge.

Whether it be Recruitment, Payroll, HR Consultancy or Compliance, RHL are perfectly placed to help Australasian businesses source, chart, hire, or onboard new talent.

With a collective 31-year industry history between them, Paul and Ilse have been adding this kind of value to organisations across the globe before making the return to Paul's birthplace of Australia in 2018.

Prime Migration & Legal Services

In a highly complex and specialised industry, Prime Migration & Legal Services provide professional migration advice and assistance in relation to all temporary and permanent Australian Visa Applications, Australian Citizenship Applications and Administrative Appeals Tribunal Applications.

As a qualified lawyer of the Supreme Court and High Court of Australia, and with experience of over a decade, Senior Migration Lawyer Ruth Chai-Njino has been helping Australian businesses and overseas skilled workers meet stringent requirements for Australian Work Visa and Sponsorship applications.

Following her own company's motto of "Let us help you make Australia your home", Ruth emigrated to the country in 2007.
